PORTFOLIO MANAGER'S COMMENTARY

The CardinalStone Conservative Investment Plan ("CSCIP") opened for the quarter on 1 October 2016 with an Offer price of ₦1.2478 and closed for the quarter at an Offer price of ₦1.2921 a return of 3.56%.

Due to the absence of any major catalyst, the equities market maintained the trading pattern observed in the previous quarter as market activity remained depressed for most of the quarter. The persistent impasse in the foreign exchange situation kept foreign investors out of the equities market. This was a reflection of the macro economic situation in the country which saw Q3 GDP contract by 2.24% and December inflation rise by 18.55% y.o.y. At the end of the quarter, the Nigerian Stock Exchange All Share Index (NSE ASI) lost 5.16%, this was worse than the decline of 4.27% recorded in the previous quarter.

A performance attribution analysis showed that all sectors in the equities market depreciated during the quarter. The Industrial Goods sector led the losers chart with a depreciation of 13.03% followed by Oil & Gas sector which lost 6.95%.

Yields on sovereign bonds stayed largely stable as the monetary authorities maintained a tightening stance and mopped liquidity often. The yields on the 5yr, 7yr, 10yr and 20yr bonds rose by 104 bps, 128 bps, 98 bps, 76 bps and 46 bps respectively to close the quarter at 15.85%, 15.78%, 15.68%, 15.52% and 15.30% respectively.

This quarter, we expect the equities market to rise slightly as investors seek to take advantage of earnings releases and corporate actions of companies. We also expect yields on fixed income investments to stabilize at current levels given a reduced rate of increase in inflation.
